Egli Honda 900

The Egli Honda 900 from 1986 is a rare and special motorcycle, built by the legendary Egli brand known for their custom frames. Egli closed its doors years ago, making every bike they produced an even more exclusive and sought-after collector's item. This particular Egli Honda 900 combines Honda's powerful 900cc engine with Egli's bespoke craftsmanship, making it a true standout in both performance and design. If you're a serious collector or enthusiast, this bike is a must-have for your garage.

With Egli's closure, the demand for these bikes continues to rise, making this model not only a fantastic machine to ride but also a solid investment.
